GIBLITIC SCHEME UNDER WAY TO UNDERMINE THE MAGNATES.

Club in This City-Will the Brookiya Club Jump?-Schemars Working for Supporters Business on Diamond This Year Poor. Though the League championship baseball season has several weeks to run, there is evidence of an upheaval that may result in an entirely new reorganization of the various circuits or a baseball war which in magnitude will dwarf the Brotherhood affair of 1890. The other day President Phil Peterson of the recently organized National Association of Proamional Baseball Clubs came here from Baltimore. He refused to talk for publication and was so mysterious that naturally the object of his visit was the subject of much discussion. It has since been learned on the best of authority that Peterson came here to look over the ground for the placing of a National Association dub in Greater New York to include Boston, Greater New York, Philadelphis and Baltimore in the East, with Chicago. St. Louis, Milwaukee and Detroit in the West If by chance they could get Pittsburg and Chadnati instead of Milwaukee and Detroit, hey say they would not back away at all. The promoters of the new organization, according to information secured by a reporter of THE sex, have formulated a gigantic scheme by League will be wiped out and baseball will receive a thorough cleaning up. It is recognized that unless some of the National League's weapons are taken away the older body will put up a fight and will spend thousands of dollars to down any competition. Consequently the National Association men believe that if they can enjist the support of the American and the Eastern leagues and can receive substantial assistance from the Protective Association of Professional Baseball Players, they will also get assistance from several National League magnates who are tired of dictatorships and want to see the game thoroughly overhauled.

By arranging a combination of this kind, the schemers say that the clique now in control of the National League could be left high and dry, particularly as the League circuit breaks up by agreement after another season. In looking over the field in Greater New York therefore, the Association men feel that there are just three moves to make in order to seoure a first-class baseball plant here. One is to buy out Freedman's interests in the New York club. A second plan, if the first is found to be an impossibility, is to purchase the Brooklyn club bag and baggage, and thus gain a firm footing in this city. A third plan is to induce the owners of the Brooklyn club, Messrs. Abell, to variety to the state of the

it is understood, have made a proposition to the Brooklyn men within the last fired asy, but the exact nature of it cannot be learned. The schemers say that the League magnates do not love the Brooklynites and that the latter are liable to be thrown down at any time. If the allegrance of the Brooklyn magnates could be secured, the schemers believe that they sould approach the owners of the St. Louis d be secured, the schemers believe that 'any dapproach the owners of the St. Louis, including Frank Deliass Robison, and Chicago club, owned by the Spaddings controlled by James A. Hart. As it is now National Association stands ready to put clubs in Chicago and St. Louis, but there warm feeling of friendship toward Robison. Spalding, who have always fought to is calculated that possibly the old League would agree to allow the new organization to live without having to fight for existence. If successful, therefore, in undermining the League by winning from it three clubs with grounds, fixtures and prestige, the promoters of the Association believe that their position would be so completely fortified that the minor leagues would look for protection. In that way a new national agreement would be framed, which would govern baseball just as it is now controlled by the National League.

Pusibly, the schemers argue, the National engue magnates may refuse to grant the requests of the Protective Association, in which event it will be up to the players to make a warlike move. Then would be the time for the National Association promoters to step into the arena with inducements to the players to foresite their old employers. The proposition has been discussed by the players, particularly by the ones who have engineered the deal. The officials of the Protective Association have declared that they want no trouble with the National League, but if it comes they

CHICAGO, 6: CINCINNATI, 4-FIRST GAME CINCINATI, Sept. 23.—About 7,500 persons saw the Cincinnatis drop two games to the Chicagos to-day and incidentally drop near the tail end of the race. In the first game Beckley and Irwin made a brace of costly errors in the sixth inning, and then with the bases full McCormick singled and Irwin dropped Geter's assist, allowing in all three runs to cross the plate. In the second game Newton was an open book to the visitors, while Griffith was an enigma for the Reds. Scores:

CHARITY ON THE SPEEDWAY

ROAD DRIVERS MAKE MATCHES FOR BENEFIT OF GALVESTON SUFFERERS.

Plenty of Frushing and a Good Crowd to See the Sport-Oscar's Speed Causes Edward R. and Freeland to "Tiptoe"-Close Finish Between Dr. Gill's Anheuser and T. N. B.

Charity apread her wings over the Speedway yesterday and stirred the hearts of some of the road drivers to do something for her cause. There was all kinds of brushing on the drive and the greatest crowd, since the heat drove such a number to the country resorts, lined the sidewalks and enjoyed the sport. Charity came in when several owners began to talk about beating each other. Col. Taylor of Buffalo, who brought his fast bay gelding, David Harrum, here about two weeks ago, fell across Nathan Straus, who had been jogging Cobwebs and giving Alves his head in one or two smart trips from the upper bend to Washington Bridge. Col. Taylor carelessly remarked that in his opinion David Harrum was a faster horse than Alves. Mr. Straus looked at the Buffalo horseman and replied that he was not of the same opinion. I'll match my horse against yours," said

"Well, I'll make a match," returned Mr Straus, 'to take place here on the Speedway, the loser to pay $200 to the fund for the Galveston sufferers."

The proposition was readily agreed to. The natch will take place on Friday afternoon.

The second instance to show that charity was floating about amongst the road riders occurred when F. G. Smith, who has not driven his fast black paper Excellence further than the entrance to the Speedway at 155th street since he was nearly killed in Central Park by a runaway saddle horse some weeks ago, was joined by Dr. David Randell, owner of the gray pacer T. N. B., and C. R. Jarvis, who drives the Dude, the bay pacer formerly owned by David Lamar. Dr. Randell was considerably elated over the result of several brushes in which he had landed first at the bridge, when Mr. Jarvis landed first at the bridge, when Mr. Jarvis remarked that the Dude was going pretty well and there was a chance that he could outfoot the gray gelding.

"Do you think you can beat my horse," inquired the doctor.

"Yes, I believe I can," returned Mr. Jarvis.

"For $100?" queried the doctor.

"I think he can."

"All right, I'll go you next Sunday morning."

"If I was in condition to drive," interposed Mr. Schmidt, "I would go in with you and make a three-cornered brush of it with Excellence."

Considerable chaffing back and forth followed, and finally Mr. Schmidt said that although he was still unable to use one arm, he would go into the match and drive his horse with one hand, provided they would allow him to add $150 to the purse, the entire amount to be turned over to the Galveston sufferers. The preposition was accepted. The conditions are, a fair start, two best in three, from the bend to the half-mile pole near Washington Bridge.

Charles Lloyd was going pretty well yester-the bend to the half-mile pole near Washington Bridge. Charles Lloyd was going pretty well yesterday morning with his chestnut gelding Richard B. He had a very warm argument with Miss Lida, a gray pacer driven by Elmor Stevens. She is a green one, but can step smartly. They went down from the bend like the rush of a prairie fire. At the point of rocks they were neck and neck, both going steadily, and it was a "toss-up" which would reach the bridge first. When within a short distance of the finishing point, Mr. Lloyd called upon his chestnut, which let out a link or two and got his nose aboat of the gray. let out a link or two and got his nose of the gray of the prettiest brushes of the day for a which let out a link or two and got his nose ahead of the gray.

One of the prattiest brushes of the day for a short distance was between B. Zahn behind the recountable Oscar, C. H. Jarvis, with Edward R., a big gaited bay trotter which he cut loose for the first time on the speedway, and Freeland, driven by Pierce. They rounded the bend head and head, and from there to the point of rocks there was not a foot of space between them. Passing the point, Oscar began to draw away; but what promised to be one of the closest finishes of the day, was spoiled by a man in fropt of them, driving a bay pacer, who was either ignorant or careless of the rules which require drivers who are going down slowly to stay close in to the qurb. He was just far enough out from the curb to interfer with the trio. Mr. Pierce was compelled to take in and barely had room enough to squeeze through next to the sidewalk, while Oscar and Edward R., came near colliding in trying to pass on the other side. Edward R., went to a break and was taxen in. In a second brush down. Oscar set the pace so warm from the point that the others began to "tiptoe" and were left in the rear.

Bernard Zahn had his bay mare Dundess going well after her enforced lay-up. Sie came down in the lead several times, but was eventually beaten by Col. Taylor behind David Barum. Dr. Gill's gray pacer Anheuser and Dr. Randell's T. N. B. had a nip-and-tuck brush ait he way down to the bridge. They were nose and nose passing the crowd just below the point and it was thought by many that they had made a dead heat. As they logged back Dr. Gill remarked that he thought he had beaten T. N. B. by an ayelash, but for all that they had made a dead heat. As they logged back Dr. Gill remarked that he thought he had beaten T. N. B. by an ayelash, but for all that they had made a dead heat. The chestnut pacing stallion Oddity, which cut such a prominent figure on the drive when he dirst arrived from Ohio, was trimmed yesterday by both Anheuser and T. N. B. in exciting brushes.

NEWS OF THE WHRELMEN.

Reduction of Indebtedness Shown by Nev York Division L. A. W.

The report of the Secretary-Treasurer of the New York State Division, L. A. W., which was read on Saturday at the quarterly meeting of the officers at Peekskill, showed that from June 1 to Sept. 1 the liabilities of the division had been decreased by $360.09. The total liabilities on Sept. 1 were $4,986.02. Of this amount $1,300.93 is owed to the former Secretary-Treasurer, W. S. Bull, on an unpaid salary account; $1,122.55 is due W. M. Merserole of the board on the road book account, $1,029.99 is due the National L. A. W. Treasurer on loan account, and the balance of the indebtedness is mostly to officers of the division in amounts ranging from $8 to $240. The receipts for the quarter were $2,701.25. The balance on hand Sept. 16 was $331.47. Two probable effects of the popularity attained by the coaster brake is that of paving

the way for a changeable speed gearing and of accelerating the tendency toward uniformity in the making of rear hubs and threading them. Years ago attempts were made by several inventors to introduce variable speed devices, but without success. That was in the days of the light wheel craze when even a bell was considered a schocking increase in weight. The coaster brake has, however, accustomed riders to intermittent pedalling and new proficiencies of foot movement and the expression of a desire for a changeable gear device in conjunction with the coaster and brake has not been without its listeners in the trade. Concerning uniformity, makers of coaster brakes to "fit any hub" have had their own troubles dealing with the great variety of hubs now put forth. One man says that he has daily calls to fit hubs that he cannot fill. He argues that since the coaster brake has become a standard article it is to the interest of makers to adopt a standard for their sprocket and lock nut threads, because riders will favor those wheels to which they can most easily and cheaply have the device attached.

This is the finest season of the year for cycle teuring. It is the time to make the projected and postpened trips of last spring, and reports from various sources of renewed activity indicate that many riders are aware of the advantages of fall riding. From now until snow files the physical benefit and the mental exhilaration resident in cycle riding can be more easily drawn from it than during the heated term. The veterans of the oldest cycling organization in the country, the Boston Bicycle Club, recognize this and set an example for others by announcing their second annual run on Long Island for Sept 30. The members of the club are mostly grizzled men of middle age and sound business standing, who are full of wise saws and humorous reminiscences of the early days of the sport. The party will leave New York at 5 o'clock on next Saturday evening on a boat for Greenport, from where they will begin their ride on Sunday morning, going over some of the noted side-arthur of Sufekaguaty. All the reaths of Long. from where they will begin their ride on Sun-day morning, going over some of the noted side-paths of Suffolk county. All the paths of Long Island are reported to be in good condition, and as there are 300 miles of them, a rider could wound sweet. spend several days very pleasantly inspecting them. Some of the paths lead through the heart of the woods and are grandly picturesque.

Boston, Sept. 28.—Harry Elkes beat Johnny Nelson for the second time last right at Charles River track in a fifty-mile race, which was liberally sprinkled with records. Elkes did the job easily and covered the fifty miles in 1 hour 22 minutes and 22 2-5 seconds. This is better than the American professional figure, which was 1 hour 53 minutes and 18 seconds, made by Frank Waller at Memphis, Nov. 19, 1896, and is 21:52 4-5 better than the recent amateur record established at London by H. W. Rain, which is said to be a world's record for the fifty-mile distance.

Park Commissioner Brower says that Glen-more avenue, Brooklyn, is to be entirely re-newed with asphalt.

An endeavor is being made to obtain the use of the Brighton Beach race track for the team race of the Associated Cycling Clubs on Oct. 20.

PINE ENTRY LIST FOR OPENING MEET AT EMPIRE CITY TRACK.

ravesend's Final Week Promises Good Sport

-Autumn Card at Morris Park Will Open With a $29,000 Stake-Ballyhoo Bey, Tommy Atkins and Commando Are Eligible. After this week Long Island as a racing centre will have to give way to Westchester county for over a month. The Jockey Club will throw open its gates at Morris Park on Tuesday, Oct. 2, for its fall meeting of fifteen days, and on Oct. 22, the venue changes to the headquarter of the Empire City Jockey Club. The latter fixture, being the first for runners over the big course usually identified with harness racing, is arousing much interest among horsemen. Should the temporary officers, President P. J. Dwyer and Secretary II. D. McIntyre, make a success of next month's venture, the Empire City track is likely to become a prominent factor in future racing schedules on the metropolitan circuit.

The promoters are confident that they will make a hit, and the facts up to date seem to justify their most sanguine anticipations. Owners were known to be in sympathy with the movement from the start, but few looked for a programme above the selling-plate order. When they glanced over the prospectus issued by Secretary Mointyre they were literally taken of their feet, as it bristied with well-endowed stake events which would do credit to an oldestablished meeting of the highest class. Briefly summarized, the entiries to date are as follows:

Empire Stakes, 33: Wakefield Stakes, 29: Mahopac Bendies of Merces States, 24: Takefie Stakes, 24: Takefie Stakes, 24: Takefie Stakes, 25: Mahopac of the Empire City Jockey Club. The latter

24. Woodlawn Handicap, 40. Cappaqua Handicap, 35. Hillsdale Handicap, 40. Katonah Stakes, 54. The advance programme for the first six days' rading at Morris Park is out and, if possible, exceeds the high standard always aimed at by the Jockey Club since it assumed control of the sport there some years ago. Among the most noticeable features are the Second Matron of $20,000, for two-year-olds, Eclipse course, and the Champion Steeplechase, with $9,000 added, for four-year-olds and upward, over the full course of about three miles and a half. These events are the richest of their class on the calendar and should bring out the cream of the season. The eligibles for the Matron include the noted rivals, Tommy Atkins and Ballyhoo Bey, and if the latter can be got ready hundreds of enthusiasts will flock to Morris Park to see the controversy arising out of the Futurity and Flatbush decided. The Keenes can also start their unbeaten colt Commando, while the Fleischmanns and other prominent owners hold strong hands.

Six stakes yet remain for decision at Gravesend, and the book for the week is further strengthened by a series of promising overnight handicaps. The regular fixture for this afternoon is the Parkville for three-year-olds, at about six furloars. Its conditions call for subscriptions of $50 each or only $15 if declared, with $1,000 added, and as thirty-one were originally nominated the purse should foot up to a neatsum. According to Col. H.D. McIntyre's official list eleven horses have accepted, with Modrine in the post of honor. His impost is 125 pounds, three more than has been allotted to Rockton and Vulcain. The others are closely grouped and the winner will take some picking. Every horse in the race seems to have a chance with the possible exception of Withers, a Hanover colt that is proving a great disappointment to President P. J. Dwyer. It is to be hoped he will reward his owner's patience before the meeting ends. The Parkville is sandwiched in between two handicap races for all ages, one on a highweig First Race For two-year olds; five furlongs:

Preliminary Practice of the Princeton, Yale and Columbia Teams.

PRINCETON, Sept. 23.—The fifty candidates for the football team at Princeton have been practising just one week. During that time the men have been carefully sorted and tried out, so far as has been possible without indulging in line-ups, with gratifying results. Judging from the extra amount of attention which Dewitt, the Lawrenceville boy, and Brown, the Connecticut freshman, have received during the last few days it is safe to say that the coaches have selected them as 'Varsity guards for the first sorimmage next week. As captain and tackle of the Lawrenceville team Dewitt, of course, has had more experience than his classmate and takes more naturally to the position. He is builtmuch on the same style as Hillebrand, but is broader across the shoulders. At the beginning of the season he tipped the scales at 207 pounds. Brown, on the other hand, has had practically no experience. He is, however, quick to catch a point. He is bigger and stronger than his mate, and some say that he is the most ruggedlooking football candidate that has worn a uniform here in many years. He is about 6 feet 3 inches tall, and weighs more than 200

Although appearances do not seem to indicate that the centre position will be filled by a freshman nevertheless the entering class has brought a promising man in the person of Butklewies, the Andover centre. He is a trifle light, weighing about 176 pounds, but is stocky and well put together, and if he is unable to play regularly will make an admirable substitute. John Dana, who showed such a good fight for a guard last fall, is the man who has stitute. John Pana, who showed such a good fight for a guard last fall, is the man who has been picked by the coaches this week for the pivotal position. Balliett has devoted a good share of the week to instructing Pana. Losey is another big sophomore who is being tried for centre. In Brown, Dana and Dewitt it would seem that the Tigers have a centre trio which will almost equal in weight the three big centre men of last fall's eleven, and one which ough to be fully as activo.

The prospect for a strong line has been further brightened by the announcement that Raiph Davis, captain and tackle on the Andover team last year, will enter college. He has the reputation of being the best tackle that played on the preparatory school teams last fall. He is about 5 feet 8 inches tall and weights 175 pounds. He had passed his preliminary examinations for Yale, but decided at almost the last minute that he would prefer to enter Princeton. Palmer, the old end, will be here the first of the week. While the prospects in the line have been looking up during the last week, affairs in the back field have been taking on a worse light. Word has been received that Quarter Back Hutchinson will not return, and it is feared that the faculty will not permit Charley Young, the old Cornell quarter, to try for the eleven. In that case, Duncan of the 'Fe eleven and Coleman, captain of the crack team, will be the only two men fit to pass the ball. Reiter, the crack half back, has not appeared, and it is said that he, too, is having trouble with the faculty. This leaves only McCord. McClave and Mattis of the hack field veterane, who have been practising during the last week. Hunter, from the St. Paul's school, is the most promising half back among the new men, although Heinbaugh, captain of the Williston Seminary team, comes to college well recommended as a line breaker. Underhill, an East Orange High School boy, is the only new full back, and his punts compare favorably with shose of the old men, Hodgman and Mattis. Sousa, as son of John Ph

New Haven, Sept 23.—The opening of the football season at Yale last week was full of interest for lovers of the game. Gordon Brown as captain has made a very good impression. The candidates who have reported for practice are all in fine condition. The work of the week was confined to the training of the veterans of last year's team and to candidates from the scrub teams of last season. The freshman players have not yet come out. Yale expects more than usual from the freshman. Many of these have been in town during the week, but they have been busy setting ready for the entrance examinations of Monday and Tuesday and have not yet donned their football togs.

and Tuesday and have not yet donned their football togs.

Hyde, a member of the Theological School, who played at Wesleyan two years ago, has joined the list of candidates for back of line positions. Hyde was in the Yale Theological School last year, but was unable to play owing to the eligibility rules. He is a fine looking fellow, big and strong. The most interesting feature of the work of the old men has been the changing of many of them from their old positions. Hale, who played centre rush last year, has been placed at full back. Cook, who played end rush, has been placed at half back. Dupee, who played half back, has been put on the end of the line. Reane, who played half back, has been placed at quarter. The tendency is to rearrange the team so that it will be heavier back of the line than it was last segson.

Beauty of the series, that have been trying for the team for three years, has played easire for the team for three years, has played easire for the team for three years, has played easire for the team and to keep up in his studies. Gordon Hrown will have no competition for his old position as guard. The same will probably be true of Olcott. George Stillman, who played one of the tackle positions last eason, may have the first his place. The leading candidate for the played one of the end positions two years are, has just come out as a candidate for his old place, but if the freshman class produces some good material. Coy will probably have a hard time to hold his position. The other candidates for end are Gould and Did the control of the place. The change, however, may be the undoing of fincks. Reane is a terrible fighter and somewhat more of a defensive player than Fincks. This seems to be what Capt. Brown is looking for any of the place.

It is said that R. Sheldon, the shot putter, who was a member of the Se team, may return to college and play football this fall.

MIDDLETOWN, Sept. 23—Football practice at Wesleyan began with awquad of twenty candidates, the largest if years, and the number is growing daily. As yet the freshmen have shown no good material with the exception of Goode, who may develop into a first-class player. Goode's preparatory work was done at Wesleyan Academy and last year he played half back and was captain of the latter team. Six members of the old team are back. They are S Dodds, leftend; C. B. Dodds, quarter back; Inglis, full back; Silliman, centre; Wilson, 97, captain of the teams of '95 and '96 has done the preliminary coaching. Other alumni will assist later in the season. The schedule follows:

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 23.—Brown University's football season began with preliminary practice on Lincoln Field. The graduate system of coaching, inaugurated two years ago, will be continued, with Robinson, '96, as head coach. In first day's work Robinson was assisted by Hunt, '99, and J. A. Gammons, '98. Brown's prospects for a strong eleven are very good. These members of last year's team have returned to college: Capt. Washburn, Melendy Whittemore, Sheehan, Slocum, Cann, Bartlett, Cuddy and Baies. Of the 1899 substitutes Barry and Wheeler will also try for the team. The entering class contains eight promising men who appeared this afternoon and there are others expected out to-morrow. The new candidates are: W. R. Hastings, Amburn, Me.; Hersey, Keene; R. C. Wade, Salem, Mass.; S. B. Newton, Newport; H. E. Griffith, Augusts; E. R. Scudder, W. A. Holland and G. W. Davidson, Brockton, Mass.

The corrected schedule of games is as follows:

Sept. 29, Colby: Oct. 6, Hely Cross; 10, Massa.

Sept. 29. Colby: Oct. 6. Holy Cross: 10. Massachusetts Institute of Technology, all at Providence: 13. University of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia: 20. University of Chicago, at Chicago: 27.
